

POLIZIANO

POLIZIANO MONTEPULCIANO

VINO NOBILE

MONTEPULCIANO • TUSCANY • ITALY • EUROPE

TECHNICAL DETAILS

The Estate

Founded in 1961 by Dino Carletti, Poliziano is located a few miles northeast of Montepulciano, Italy. Dino's son Frederico inherited the winery in 1982 and subsequently expanded the estate while improving overall quality.

Wine Making

Manually harvested with a secondary selection by optical sorting. Fermentation and maceration in truncated, conical stainless steel vats for a period of 15-20 days.

Food Suggestions

Pairs well with beef, deer, venison, and poultry dishes.

TASTING NOTES

Vino Nobile di Montepulciano is the principal wine of Poliziano. Revered by nobility through the centuries, Vino Nobile was often hailed as "the wine of kings." Today, Vino Nobile is still considered to be special, thanks to the Prugnolo Gentile clone of Sangiovese that is grown in the Montepulciano area. Poliziano uses 85% Prugnolo Gentile in their blend, along with two traditional Tuscan varieties, Colorino and Canaiolo, and a bit of Merlot. The complementary varieties add color, depth, and complexity to the elegance of the Sangiovese.

Prugnolo Gentile, Colorino, Canaiolo, Merlot & grape blend.

This wine contains allergens, sulfites.
