TECHNICAL DETAILS

The Estate

For nearly five decades, the Guibert family has watched over and tended to the vines with unfailing dedication. The story began with Véronique and Aimé, our parents and continues today with the second generation at the helm. To one day be followed by a third...

Wine Making

A tendril of the Guibert family of wines, the same folks that produce the Herault's legendary Mas de Daumas Gassac, Pink Libation is fermented in stainless steel tanks at the estate, but is made from local co-op fruit. The wine rests in tank for a few months before being bottled in 1 liter PET containers, the world's most easily recycled plastic.

Food Suggestions

Pairs well with park bench faves like pizza and empanadas, beach blanket tapenade on crusty baguettes or just toss some cool ones in the pool. They float.

TASTING NOTES

Pink Libation South of France Rosé celebrates a fun and safe lifestyle on the beach, boat, or by the pool and is packaged in a non breakable 100% recyclable PET bottle. Bright pink in color with pleasant red fruit aromas, especially strawberry. Rich and round on the palate, this wine is thoroughly lively, well-balanced and slightly fruity.

40% Carignan, 30% Grenache, & 30% Syrah grape blend.

This wine contains allergens, sulfites.
