

ANT MOORE

WAI WAI MARLBOROUGH SAUVIGNON BLANC

MARLBOROUGH • NEW ZEALAND • OCEANIA

TECHNICAL DETAILS

The Estate

Wai Wai is a private label produced by the Ant Moore winery in New Zealand. Wai means water in New Zealand's native Maori language, water being the lifeline of agriculture and inherent in New Zealand's island culture.

Wine Making

With clear skies and warm weather, the vines are quick to ripen and produce very fruit-driven wines. With these perfect conditions, Ant and his team are meticulously crafting a mix of science and art.

Food Suggestions

Pairs well with seafood, poultry, dry cheeses and salads.

TASTING NOTES

This bright Sauvignon Blanc is both playful and serious, enticing the nose with refreshing citrus notes and the palate with juicy gooseberry leaf. Pure, natural and crisp with a long finish, this wine pairs well with seafood, poultry, dry cheeses and salads.

Sauvignon Blanc grape blend.

This wine contains allergens, sulfites.
