TECHNICAL DETAILS

The Estate

Linda Donna is an Italian winery (or at least an Italian wine brand) that produces a wide variety of wines, many of them fairly approachable in price and style.

Wine Making

The rosé coloring likely comes from brief skin contact or from blending with a red/rosé-compatible Moscato variant or similar grape (in some versions, Moscato & Brachetto grapes are indicated) to get that pink hue. It is bottled with bubbles (or secondary fermentation / carbonation) to give the sparkling / spumante character.

Food Suggestions

Pairs well with fresh berries, stone fruit desserts (like strawberry shortcake or raspberry tarts), creamy soft cheeses, mild flavored pastries, and desserts that are not overly rich or heavy.

TASTING NOTES

Linda Donna Rosé Moscato opens in the glass with lively aromas of red fruit—strawberries, perhaps raspberries—alongside delicate floral tones and a soft note of sweetness. There's a gentle sparkle (fizziness) that adds a playful lift, making the wine feel tender and light, rather than dense. On the palate, the sweetness is present but moderated by fresh acidity; the fruitiness leans toward sweet berries and perhaps hints of peach or melon in lighter registers. The finish tends to be smooth, with the residual sugar lingering pleasantly, balanced by the effervescence.
